SORENSEN REUNION HELD

The fourth annual Sorenson family reunion was held at the Hartwick Pines on Sunday, Aug. 25, 1963, with around 85 persons attending. The reunion began with a potluck noon meal, with dishes of unsurpassed excellence. During and afterwards there was the usual renewal of acquaintance and catching up on family news. Then the election of officers for the next year was held, resulting in the election of Harry Sorenson for president, Lois LaGrow as vice-president, Jean Craycraft of Port Huron, treasurer, and Agnes Robinson of Houghton Lake as secretary. Mrs. Robinson was recognized as the eldest attending, and Kimberly Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrison, the youngest. Also attending were newlyweds Norman and Garland Thompson of Port Huron, Miss Ruth Kernosky was a guest.

Games using the various park facilities were enjoyed as usual by many, during the afternoon, as well as tours of the Pines by those who had not seen them or wished to renew their memories. After a most pleasant day it was voted to meet again next year on Aug. 23 at the same spot for a fifth reunion.

REORGANIZATION COULD BRING STRIFE

TROUBLE AHEAD IN REDISTRICTING

Two reorganization requirements under the new Constitution, one involving the Legislature and the second other state government agencies, may well produce an unfortunate occurrence.

Under the 1960 Federal census, Michigan picked up a 19th seat in Congress. Inability of the Legislature to agree on a redistricting plan forced the 1962 election of a Congressman-at-Large. No new division of the state has yet been accomplished.

This stalemate is a minor forecast of what will occur when the legislative apportionment and agency reorganization begins.

Another example of the backbiting which can be expected in meeting the Constitutional provisions was seen last year when the State Supreme Court ordered changes in the State Senate districts.

Although the order was stopped by an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, the members of the apportionment body were worried. Each was hesitant to recommend any plan which would cut one of his colleagues out of a seat, but primarily was each Senator's concern for his own district.

In its wisdom, the Constitutional Convention provided for a commission rather than the Legislature to redistrict the lawmaking body when necessary. The commission members, however, will meet the same pressures as legislators have when they attempted to realign the U. S. House districts.

STATE AGENCIES, TOO
Instead of having 18 Congressmen pleading for the safety of their seats, however, the four-man apportionment commission will get pressure from 144 legislators.

State agency heads will be putting on the same kind of battle for their jobs when the Legislature starts work on the consolidation of state government into not more than 20 principal departments.

Among the agencies, however, there is less a spirit of closeness than exists among legislators, so the backbiting is likely to be even more bitter.

Many agency spokesmen would be only too willing for their unit to absorb several others, as long as they were maintained as the chief managers of the new division.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, State Health Commissioner, has already suggested, for example, that a dozen agencies which now deal with various facets of public health be merged into a single unit. Presumably Heustis would be more than willing to be director over the new division.

Undoubtedly several other present department heads will be submitting plans similar to Heustis'.

CHANGES AHEAD FOR LANSING

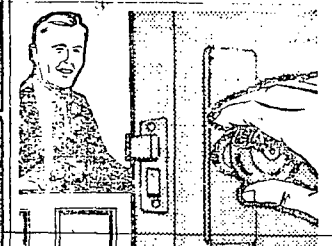

Visitors to Michigan's capital city in future years will see an amazing change from the 1963 model if current plans for development are carried out. The proposed expenditure of $35 million will provide a group of new state office buildings and parking facilities in a six-block area immediately west of the Capitol Building.

Long under consideration but held up by financial problems, the development plan started to get off the ground at the close of the regular 1963 session.

A House-Senate committee has been studying the Administration Department's plans for the project all summer and will be ready with some recommendations during the special September session, but most of the ideas will be advanced later.

Necessity for new office space in Lansing was put forth in an architectural report which showed state agencies need more than 56,000 additional square feet of working space to meet their needs through 1968.

The plans being considered by the legislative committee call for daily-fee parking facilities for 4,000 employees, a new Highway Department administration building, four-story structure to house the revenue and Secretary of State departments, and a Supreme Court building.

A. N. Langus, state building director, said the plan as proposed would allow 27 state agencies to move their operations out of some 40 rented facilities in the Capitol city.

WATCH FURNACE FRAUDS
It seems as if summer just started, but the calendar will show that it is nearly over and there is much to be done to prepare for the winter.

One of the chief concerns of any family as fall and winter approach should be the safety of the home. The furnace tops the list of items to be checked, according to State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. Kelley's consumer protection division emphasizes that if a company pay for is necessary.

By checking the condition of your furnace before cold weather causes an emergency, you can compare estimates of competitors and be more sure the work you pay for is necessary.

Grass Roots Thinking . . .

What are the American people thinking about? What problems and concerns are foremost in their minds? What, in sum, is the nation's present mood? U. S. News and World Report decided to seek the answers to such questions as these. A staff team made a grass roots survey throughout the country, testing the public view on the whole range of national affairs. The findings — which will come as something of a surprise to many — are presented in a lengthy article in the magazine's issue of July 29.

The substance of it is found in the opening sentence: The mood of the American people at this time is undergoing a sharp change. "The matters that dominated our thinking not long ago — the danger of war, the Cuban problem, Russia and Khrushchev — have lost at least some of their urgency. In their place are problems that are closer to home.

Foremost among them is the race issue, with all its tragic overtones and undertones, and the fear it brings of a racial conflict. Other concerns involve taxes (primarily state and local — comparatively few expect federal tax reduction) and the problem of Big Government, with all the controls and regulations involved. As U. S. News puts it, "In general, it is local problems, not world affairs, that are concerning Americans most today."

The body of this most informative article consists of quotations from citizens the country over on the subjects that are now uppermost in their minds. Here are some typical findings and excerpts:

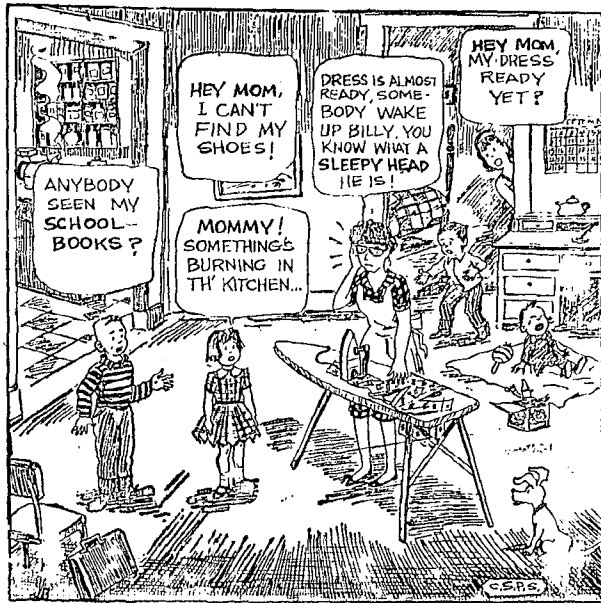

There is much sympathy for the drive of Negroes to achieve equal rights. But this brings with it fears. A house painter says, "I think there's going to be a race war." Many think the Negroes, in their campaigns and demonstrations, are pushing too hard. A college student says, "These demonstrations just build up resentment." On specific civil rights legislation, as proposed by the President, there is a sharp difference as to whether it is the right answer.

On the subject of Presidential popularity, the survey finds that it has slipped somewhat but is still high. Politically, President Kennedy is still out in front, but here is disappointment in his performance as Chief Magistrate. So far, there has been no big popular trend in favor of any particular Republican candidate for 1964.

Most people find that business is good. But there is worry over the effects of automation and unemployment. A Cleveland banker said this: "It's not unemployment that's bugging us, it's 'disemployment' — the disappearance of jobs. There is increasing capital investment . . . but the total number of jobs is falling off."

The federal government, many think, has become too big, too powerful, too costly. It is doing too much policing, and demanding an excessive amount of record keeping. A tax consultant said, "We're learning that federal aid and federal control go together just like ham and eggs." And there is more and more questioning of the virtues of the federal foreign aid program.

On close-to-home problems, there is a wide range of concern. Taxes constitute one — particularly property taxes. Others are local transportation, the cost and the quality of the schools, juvenile delinquency. Of the last, a small-town newspaper editor suggested a need . . . for a sort of moral rearmament program among teen-agers.

Finally, there is the question of whether people, as a whole, are really deeply concerned with the great issues of the day. An oil company executive was a doubter: "They seem to be seeking an escape from their concerns by concentrating on everyday living. My friends seem to be buying more cars, enjoying themselves at picnics and parties more than ever before."

Yes, the mood of America apparently is changing. It is as yet an unsettled mood. The profound differences over every issue of consequence before Congress are no doubt, a reflection of that fact.

Motion by Sorenson and supported by Madson that the proposed franchise offered by the Consolidated Gas Company for the City of Grayling be accepted.

All voting in favor, the motion carried.

The City Clerk was instructed to have the content of the franchise published in the Crawford Avalanche.

Golinick, Hirvela and Ames appeared before the Council in regard to the policy of the City in the payment of installing sidewalks. Mr. Ames protested to the manner in which he was paid for the City's share of the cost of the sidewalk recently installed by him on Clyde St. Therefore, the following motion was made, establishing the City's policy on the cost of construction of sidewalks.

Motion by Cook and supported by Madson that Mr. Ames be paid the balance of the cost of his sidewalk and that in the future, the following policy will be adopted by the City.

One half of the cost of sidewalk construction will be paid by the City. If the property owner elects to do their own work, this will be considered their portion of the cost. All new sidewalk construction will be figured at 40 cents per sq. ft. repair work. Where the cost runs more than 40 cents per sq. ft., the City will pay half on actual costs.

The City Manager made the following report to the Council on the conditions in the water department.

1. The small well and pump needs an overhaul. The pump is not producing its full capacity.

2. The water tower is beginning to show rust spots and will need a new coat of paint and possible repairs.

3. The valves in the water mains all need inspection and repair or replacement. It was suggested that a few be repaired each year.

The Manager was instructed to contact at least three well repair companies to determine costs on repair to the small well.

As there was no other business to come before the council, the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 P.M.

Rev. ROBERT H. HARPER
FATHERS' DAY

MANY years ago, at the close of a Mothers' Day service in a New Orleans church, a little girl asked me why we did not have a Fathers' Day service. I could not give any satisfactory answer then. I was glad soon afterward that such a day was designated.

I am sure that Father needs no eulogy from me. In song and story

JUST A THOUGHT: The hand is quicker than the eye, or is it? Does it perhaps happen that sometimes we allow ourselves to see only what we want to see and nothing more?

his worth has been set forth. And when the Lord Jesus taught men to pray, he bade them to address God as "our Father." And we know that the Father is everywhere. And the universe He has made, everywhere that men pray. And what greater incentive to pray can there be that the God who has made ten thousand worlds is something like, though infinitely greater degree, our great Father on earth? And what greater assurance could we have in crying out of our need?

Years ago I heard of a little girl who was found playing with her doll as happily as if she were safe at home. And when the frightened people on the ship asked why she was not crying, she replied, "My father is the captain." And a few days since I read of a small boy who was seated alone in a train. And when a preacher sat down beside him and asked if he was afraid on the train alone, he replied, "No, my father is driving." On Fathers' Day, let us prove that we know that God is in charge.

FORMER RESIDENTS DAUGHTER WEDS

Pink Failla taffeta gowns with beaded skirts, scoop necklines and short sleeves were worn by bridal attendants in the wedding of Miss Margot Katherine Phelps and William Bernard Dillon, Sunday, Aug. 25, 1963, in the Saginaw First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Herbert S. Schroeder and Rev. Samuel Beamesderfer read the rites for the daughter of Mrs. John Coventry Phelps, 2207 Court, and the late Mr. Phelps and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dillon of Ferndale.

The bride chose a bouquet taffeta gown, its bodice embroidered with pearls and sequins and its beaded skirt accented by a front panel of embroidery. The dress was fashioned with scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves. A pearl and sequin-trimmed taffeta pillow held her veil. The bridal bouquet was a semi-cascade of pink roses, white pompons and white carnations.

Miss Cynthia E. Phelps was maid of honor for her sister. Misses Nancy J. Gobel of Charlotte and Suzanne H. Starmann of Cass City were bridesmaids, their dresses a deeper shade of pink than the honor maid's. All wore matching circlets as headpieces and carried cascades of gladiolus ranging from orchid to rose shades with lemon leaves.

The bride was escorted by Henry C. Eimers. The reception was held at the church before the newlyweds left on a honeymoon through northern Michigan. They will make their home in Detroit.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, David Dillon of Ferndale, as best man, Robert and Russell Dillon, two more brothers of the bridegroom, and William Allen Brown of Berkley.

The late John C. Phelps was born in Grayling in what is now the Methodist parsonage. He grew up here and graduated from Grayling High school with the Class of 1923.

Mr. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Powell, at Portage Lake, to spend their honeymoon, as they were married the day previous, September 2, in Detroit.

School opened Tuesday, with a full corps of teachers present, with the exception of the physical training teacher, Supt. Otterbein has been busy getting acquainted with his new duties. The total enrollment for the year is 579, including the South side school.

The first to be ordered into service in the national army, are two of Grayling's well-known young men, Arthur McIntyre and Ransom Burgess. They are ordered to report at Camp Hunter, Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 6. Mayor T. W. Hanson invited these boys together with members of the village council and a few other business men to his Portage Lake cottage for luncheon before they leave. Mr. McIntyre and Mr. Burgess were each presented with $20.00 gold pieces, also each was given a personal check by R. Hanson.

Bingo! The electric lights are on again. The city has been in darkness since July 15, while the power plant was being put in better condition.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Welch of McGregor Road, Riverdale, were honored with an open house at their home Sunday, Sept. 1, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. Their children, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Welch of Grayling, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Welch of Vestaburg, Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Welch of Mt. Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mikula of Fraser, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Frobel of North Attleboro, Mass., were hosts to the many, many friends who came to extend their congratulations and best wishes.

land "The Lord's Prayer." White tulle and white pompons decorated the altar, and white bows and tulle draped the pews. Escorted down the aisle by her mother, Miss Norenberg chose a gown of white imported silk over tulle for her wedding. The portrait neckline was edged with seed pearls. The flared skirt was pulled into a full back to form the chapel length train. A crown of pearls and crystals secured the bouffant of English silk illusion. The bride carried her sister's prayer book topped with a white orchid and ivory streamers. Attendants were Mrs. R. Nebohnson, the bride's sister, from Chicago, Miss Sue Munn of Alma and Miss Jeannette Henig, bridesmaids. They wore identically styled gowns of fern green silk or tulle skirts accented with floating black panels. Matching pearl crowns held their face veils and they carried crescent-shaped bouquets of yellow gladiolus and feathered carnations. Flower girl Miss Sandra Madsen, niece of the bride, groom, wore a floor-length gown of yellow and white carnations. Mr. Joe Robertson was best man. Ushers were Michael Dodge of Oxford, and Larry Rath of Harrison. The bride's nephew, Paul Johnson of Chicago, was ring-bearer. Mrs. Norenberg chose a café sheath dress of delustrated satin and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Feldhauser wore a beige brocade sheath dress with matching coat and matching accessories. Both mothers wore green cymbidium orchids. A supper was served in the dining room at Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel immediately following the wedding. The newlyweds left afterwards on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Cape Cod. Sept. 10 they will be at 12 Preston Court, Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, where both are Juniors this fall. For the honeymoon trip, Mrs. Gross chose a burgundy three-piece suit with black patent leather accessories. Attending from out of town were A/ie Jack Hull of London, Eng. Mrs. John Kinsel and Miss Nancy Schulz all of Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Munn and Miss Mary Lee Peters of Anna, Miss Gail McCollum of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Middlecott of Detroit. A rehearsal dinner for the bride party was given at Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Feldhauser at Chief Shoppenagons followed by the reception Friday evening.
